

EUPOL COPPS Newsletter - May 2021

Dear friends,

After 10 days of high-intensity crisis, I want to use this newsletter to praise the efforts made by all mission members to keep the work going on in a calm and professional manner. Rockets and missiles have not been heard of for the past days and the situation seems to be progressively calming down. I nevertheless urge each one of you to remain vigilant.

In terms of cooperation with our Palestinian counterparts, the coming weeks will be an opportunity for us to –re-engage and, I hope, to re-energize the reform process. We had launched a lot of initiatives and you can count on my full support on all of them.

Finally, I also want to wish a warm “welcome on board” to the ones of us who recently arrived in theatre. They have to know they can count on their colleagues to settle down and make their life as happy as possible in this turbulent Holly Land.

Kind regards,

Nataliya Apostolova
Head of Mission
EUPOL COPPS

Video: EUPOL COPPS police advisers in the field with Palestinian counterparts

EUPOLCOPPS continues to provide support to the Palestinian counterparts despite the restrictions imposed as a result of Covid-19.

Two EUPOL COPPS advisors taking a short tour in Ramallah with their counterparts from the PCP:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Hm6YupTbCsc>

EUPOL COPPS Mission delivers 200 copies of Human Rights Training Curriculum for law enforcement officials

EUPOL COPPS Mission delivered 200 copies of the Human Rights Training Curriculum for Law Enforcement Officials to the Ministry of Interior's Human Rights and Democracy Unit. The drafting of the manual was coordinated by the Ministry of Interior and carried out in cooperation with Birzeit University.

👉 <https://eupolcoppes.eu/single-news/695/en>

“Effective communication is key to success in every professional organisation. ”

“We all strive for and have an ambition to become better communicators and team players in our workplace. There is nothing more important than to learn how to communicate and by learning this skill you make yourself more competent in everything you do. Good and effective communication is the key to success in every professional organisation,” said Anna Wielgosz, the Mission’s Justice Expert.

<https://eupolcopps.eu/single-news/696/en>

Palestinian chief prosecutors get insights on Pilot Mentoring Programme from Finnish experts

The EUPOL COPPS Prosecution Team facilitated a two-day workshop for three Chief Prosecutors on the pilot mentoring programme.

The workshop, part of the mentoring program inaugurated in August last year, was delivered by three high level leadership experts from Finland and tackled elements of effective leadership and the leadership virtues.

👉 <https://eupolcopps.eu/single-news/697/en>

"You want all criminals behind bars. But sometimes you have to go a longer route so you don't violate human rights"

"Information and intelligence are key factors in creating a competitive advantage, in law enforcement like in business. Information, knowledge and intelligence increases the effectiveness of the police in dealing with crime". Says Johan Ekstam, a Senior

Police Adviser at EUPOL COPPS

 <https://eupolcopps.eu/single-news/694/en>

Our mailing address is:

newsletter@eupolcopps.eu

Do you wish to unsubscribe from this newsletter?

Please send us an e-mail with the subject line 'UNSUBSCRIBE'